

FUCHS GRUPPE

Boilerplate

About the Fuchs Group

The Fuchs Group, based in Dissen, Lower Saxony, is Germany's biggest spice producer and the world's largest privately owned spice company. Founded by Dieter Fuchs in 1952, the Fuchs Group now offers the food retail, food service and the food industry an extensive range of spices, culinary trends and innovative food technology, with more than 10,000 products. The product range includes brands such as Fuchs, Ostmann, Ubena, Bamboo Garden or Kattus. 3,000 employees work in nine countries on four continents to achieve the highest quality from raw materials to finished product. More information at: www.fuchsgruppe.com